About the Conference and Theme:

The prime objective of the conference is to invite academicians, research scholars and students from all over India and abroad to exchange the innovative ideas on challenges of Higher Education in India to compete with global level.

Quality in Higher Education has become a primary agenda of the countries worldwide. In the context marked by expansion of higher education and globalization of economic activities, education has become a national concern in developing countries with an international dimension. To cope up with this changing context, developing countries have been pressurized to ensure and assure quality of higher education should be nationally comparable and internationally acceptable standard. Consequently, many developing countries such as India, China are initiated national quality assurance mechanisms and many more in the process of evolving a suitable strategy. But it's not going to be easy where there are resource constraints.

Challenges before Higher education in India:

The Indian higher education system is facing an unprecedented transformation in the coming decade. This transformation is being driven by economic and demographic change: by 2021, India will be the world's third largest economy, with a correspondingly rapid growth in the size of Currently, over 50% of India's population is under 25 years old; by 2021 India will outpace China as the country with the largest tertiary-age population. Despite significant progress over the last ten years, Indian higher education is faced with four broad challenges: The supply-demand gap, The low quality of teaching and learning experience, Constraints on research capacity and innovation and Uneven growth and access to opportunity. There is a huge mismatch between what is being taught in schools, colleges and universities and the knowledge, skills and behavior businesses and organizations are looking for, in new recruits.
